KNOWING WHERE YOU COME FROM

OUR REASON FOR BEING

The University of Bremen is one of the best German universities and is embedded in multifaceted national and international networks. Our alumni and their work have a lot to do with that. Strengthening the alumni network, making it useful for every single member and for the university – that's what the University of Bremen's alumni association is here for.

By the way: Current students can also become members!

The word alumni (alumna, alumnus, pl. alumni) derives from the Latin verb "alere" (to nourish) and means "ward, pupil, student" of an alma mater (former university, college or school). The term often refers to former students and staff members of a university.

REGIONAL GROUPS AND CHAPTERS

After your studies or research in Bremen, are you now living or working in another city or country? Then why not meet up there with former fellow students or colleagues – like at networking events or regular get-togethers?

EVENTS

Alumni meeting alumni. Our network lives on that idea. Whether in Bremen or elsewhere, whether in person or online, numerous events put you in contact with other alumni. At networking events in companies or organisations that feel a connection with us. Through general exchange or joint discussions of topics that move science and society. Our members are co-creators of our network – and at our events there's something for everyone...
